

A Tale of Three Bachelors

Once upon a time, there was a show called The Dating Game on which a bachelor or bachelorette would interview three potential dates. Through the questions asked, each person's character was revealed. Often, they would discuss their ideas of perfect dates.

In groups, you will create a skit based on three bachelors (Carton, Darnay, and Stryver) competing for a date with Lucie Manette. The host can be Miss Pross, Dr. Manette, or Jarvis Lorry. The script must have seven questions that reveal physical descriptions, personality traits, comments on the other bachelors, and a decision from Lucie. Each group must have at least two (2) students from each class (Frawley & McSherry), with a total of five (5) students.

Be creative and stay focused on the content from the novel!

Skits will be performed in front of the class and are worth
48 points.

Have fun!

Group Evaluation

List your group members below. Explain the grade that each deserves for their effort. Please cite specific examples. Include a self-evaluation.

Names	Grade (A, B, C, D, or F)	Reasons for Grade
Your Name:
Member 1:
Member 2:
Member 3:
Member 4:

Name: _____

CATEGORY	8	6	4	2
Preparedness/ team participation (Group evaluations are included here)	The whole team is completely prepared and has obviously taken rehearsal time seriously.	The whole team seems pretty prepared but might have needed to focus more closely during rehearsal time.	Most of the team is somewhat prepared, but it is clear that rehearsal effort was lacking.	Most of the team does not seem at all prepared to present.
Content	Script/ skit included all of the important action and dialogue in the scene portrayed. The lines included good vocabulary from the story.	Script/ skit included all of the important action and dialogue in the scene portrayed.	The script/skit included most of the important action and dialogue from the scene portrayed.	The scene/script was vague, and it was hard to tell what was happening.
Speaks Clearly and Loudly	Speaks clearly and distinctly all (100-95%) the time, and mispronounces no words. Volume is loud enough to be heard by all audience members.	Speaks clearly and distinctly all (100-95%) the time, but mispronounces one word. Volume is loud enough to be heard by all audience members at least 90% of the time.	Speaks clearly and distinctly most (94-85%) of the time. Mispronounces more than one word. Volume is loud enough to be heard by all audience members at least 80% of the time.	Often mumbles or can not be understood and/or mispronounces several words and/or Volume often too soft to be heard by all audience members.
Originality	Skit shows considerable originality and inventiveness. The content and ideas are presented in a unique and interesting way.	Skit shows some originality and inventiveness. The content and ideas are presented in an interesting way.	Skit shows an attempt at originality and inventiveness in part of the presentation.	Skit is a rehash of other people's ideas and/or dialog and shows very little attempt at original thought.
Content - Accuracy	All content throughout the presentation is accurate. There are no factual errors.	Most of the content is accurate but there is one piece of information that might be inaccurate.	The content is generally accurate, but one piece of information is clearly flawed or inaccurate.	Content is typically confusing or contains more than one factual error.
Content-Completeness	Seven questions were answered accurately and thoroughly. The skit had a reasonable conclusion.	Only five or six questions were answered. The skit may not have resolution.	Only four questions were answered. A resolution is rushed or missing.	Three or less questions were answered. Skit is missing necessary elements.

TOTAL SCORE: _____ / 48